

"SALVAGE RUN 2006" Contest

INTRODUCTION

Hello and thank you for your interest in Alpha Forge Games "GREAT SALVAGE RUN 2006". This is shaping up to be an excellent contest, and we're looking forward to all the great entries. Before we begin however, we need to set the guidelines so everyone is on the same page.

The intent of this contest is to assemble an all purpose crew suitable for recovering valuable salvage from anywhere on the Outer Rim. Name your company, gather your Boss, Share Holders, crew members, 'bots and vehicles, and head off to the stars ready to loot, shoot, and scoot. For the purpose of this contest, we did not set a specific limit to the number and type of models, but your salvage team should not exceed an Initial Deployment Cost of 50,000 credits as defined by the Star Mogul rule book. Every entry must include a roster sheet with all the crew's basic information and itemized breakdown.

Next, please be aware your company crew should be composed solely of Alpha Forge Games miniatures. It's not that we want to stifle your creativity and squash your awesome idea for proxy models, but there are more than enough excellent figures available in the Star Mogul line to fashion a wide variety of crews and we want to showcase this unique line of figures.

SCHEDULE

To avoid overwhelming everyone, this contest is broken down into 3 distinct phases, allowing entrants sufficient time to assemble, paint, and photograph each section. The contest officially begins April 20th and ends July 20th at midnight EST. Deadlines for section entries will be at midnight local time, the 20th day of the respective month. All pictures & information should be posted in the appropriate thread on the Alpha Forge Forums by that time (we can help you with this if you have nowhere to host your images).

All models in your Salvage Run 2006 force are to be painted to at least a decent table top standard. If you are in the habit of bringing everything up to Competition Standard - more power to you! It is also essential that they were painted by YOU, yourself personally. But, if they are not, then simply be honest and note which ones were painted by a third party.

Your Company crew should be divided into three basic sections or components, namely,

1. Boss, Shareholders
2. Regular Crew, and
3. Vehicles and Robots.

Thus the deadline for the First section is the 20th May, the Second section on the 20th June, and the Third and final section due on the 20th July. In addition, the June (last) entries should include at least 1 (one) picture of your entire Salvage Crew.

You can submit entries by either e-mailing us clear digital images (JPEGs preferably) to this e-mail address:

salesdroid@alphaforgegames.com

or (preferably) post the images on the Alpha Forge Forums for all to see! The forums can be found here:

<http://www.alphaforgeforum.com/>

There is a good chance we will want to use your images in promotional material later date. We will seek your permission to do this before we go ahead with it though. :)

All entries will be judged by our panel of impartial judges. Namely Heidi and Rod Tyson, Bill Greenwald and Andrew J Piela. Friends and family of those associated with Alpha Forge Games are not permitted to enter the competition. The decision of the judges is final.

JUDGING & CATEGORIES

There will be two categories for judging your salvage company –

- 1) MAIN CATEGORY - Best painted salvage company. The best executed/ most imaginative painting of the minis in your salvage company. Conversion work on your minis, if you decide to go ahead with it, is very much encouraged!
- 2) SECONDARY CATEGORY - The best salvage company composition. The best themed or most innovatively assembled company. We're looking for imagination, but also what will make a really interesting game of Star Mogul.
